ch-2

Federalism

Answer the following -

Q1. What is the main difference ~~det~~ between a federal form of gov. and unitary one? Explain with an example.

Ans. * Main difference between them is that under a unitary form of govt. there is only one level of govt. and in ~~fe~~ federal there are two levels of govt.
* Some examples of federal form of govt. are India and Belgium as they ~~th~~ have two levels of govt.
* Some examples of unitary form of govt. ~~or~~ are china and Shri lanka.

Q2. State any two differences btw. the local govt. before and after the constitution in 1992.

Ans. The local gov. ~~fo~~ before 1992 -
* Panchayat's in village and municipalities in urban areas were set up in all the states. However, these were directly under control of state govt.
* Election were not regularly held in these bodies.
* They did not have power or resources of their own. Thus, there was very less decentralization.

The local bodies after 1992 -
* Regular elections were mandatory.
* Seats were reserved in the elected bodies.
* $1/3^{rd}$ of total seats were reserved for women.

Q3. What do you mean by decentralisation? Explain.

Ans. * when the power is distributed to the local government by the central and state govt., it is called decentralisation.

* The basic concept of decentralisation is that the problems and issues of the local level are solved by themselves.
* This is easier for them as they know solutions of their problem's.
* They have better ideas on how to spend money and do the work efficiently.

Q4. Explain the steps taken towards decentralisation in year 1992.

Ans. * Key steps taken towards decentralisation in year 1992 are as follows -

a) Mandatory elections - The constitution was amended to make necessary to hold elections regularly in self governed bodies.

b) Reservation - There was reservation for women, SC, ST's and OBC's in the elected bodies.

c) State Election Commission - Independent election commissions were established in each state to conduct panchayat and municipal elections, ensuring fair and transparent elections.

d) Power sharing and reserved sharing - State govt. were mandated to share some power and reserve with local govt. bodies, empowering them to manage local affairs more efficiently.

Worksheet

Short answers-

1 * The Judiciary plays an important role in ~~overs~~ overseeing the implementation of constitutional provisions and procedures.
* ~~The~~ In case of any of dispute in division of power, the High courts and supreme ~~cor~~ courts makes a final division.

2 * Indian federalism addressed the challenge of language policy by not designating a single national, instead Hindi as official language.
* It also provided safeguards and rights for other language.
* The Indian constitution recognised 21 languages as scheduled languages.

3. * Education in the Indian constitution falls under concurrent list.
* This means both central and state government could legislate and ~~on~~ education.
* Some reasons why education is concurrent listed-
① Flexability and national progress.
② National ~~unifitati~~ uniformity and Decentralization.
③ Collaberation and shared responsibility.

4. * Panchayati Raj is a system of local self ~~Gov~~ gov. in rural part, providing a ~~the~~ fundmental structure for managing village affairs.
* It empowers local population to participate in decision making process.

5. The states which enjoy special powers under article 371 are-
① ~~Meg~~ Maharashtra
② Gujarat
③ Nagaland
④ Assam
⑤ Manipur
⑥ Madhya Pradesh
⑦ Telangana
⑧ Goa.

Long Ques / Ans.-

1. Local government are needed because-
① Democratic participation - Local government provides ~~of~~ a platform for citizens to directly participate in decision making through elected representatives and local councils.
② Local Knowledge and Expertise - Local gov. are more aware of their needs and can priortize it accordingly.
③ Promating local Development - Local gov. play a vital role in planning and which influence community growth and land use. They can ~~also~~ also support local businesses, create job and attract investement.
④ Providing essential services - They are responsible for delivering a wide range of services that directly impact daily life like sanitation, safety etc.

Q2 * Three major distincts between them are their formation, power distribution and the nature of state-central gov. relations.

* In coming together federations, independent states voluntarily unite to form a larger entity, leading to ~~eq~~ equal power sharing between states.
* A strong emphasis on economy and state autonomy.
* Conversely, holding together federations are created by a large country dividing its central gov. holding more power and State's having limited autonomy.

Application based questions on SDGs (4,8,16):

1 * In a situation where the central government prohibits electric fencing, while State gov. allows it, the central law will prevail.

* This is because the constitution grants the central gov. authority make laws on ~~the~~ certain subjects, and including the ones in concurrent list.

2 * Local gov. in India, particularly Panchayati Raj institutions (PRIs), plays a crucial role in strengthening Indian democracy by empowering citizen and greater participation in gov.

* However, they also face numerous challenges that hinder their effective function and impact.

3 * The two negative aspects are -

a) Lack of unity - Coalition partners often have conflicting interests, leading to poor coordination impacts.

b) Political Instability - Frequent disagreements can cause instability and disrupt the government.

19/8