7/10/25

Footprints without Feet

- H. G. Wells

I Answer the following Word Meanings:-

1 Ecentric: Unusual or odd in behaviour

Sentence The escentric man were mismatched shoes.

2 Callously: without caring

Sentence He callously ignored the injured dog.

3 Set tongues wagging: Caused gossip

Sentence Her sudden disappearence set tongues wagging.

4 Ready cash: Money available for immediate use

Sentence He paid the bill with ready cash.

II Answer the following Reference to Content:-

1 Seddenly ---------- man.

a The people in the bar were horrified to

Ans To see furniture moving on its own.

b Why did the man appear to be headless?

Ans The man appeared headless because Griffin, though wearing clothes, had an invisible head. His body was visible due to the clothes, but since his head wasn't covered, it remained unseen, making him look like a headless figure to the shocked onlookers.

c Give a synonyme of the word 'horrified'.

(i) Terrified

(ii) Petrified

(iii) Excited

(iv) Both (i) and (ii) ✓

III Answer the following Short Answers:-

Q1 'Griffin was rather a lawless person.' comment on this.

Ans Griffin was a lawless person who misused his scientific discovery for selfish and criminal acts. He stole clothes, food, and money, and even set fire to his landlord's house. His invisibility made him arrogant and dangerous, showing no respect for law or morality.

Q2 What did Mr. and Mrs. Hawl see in the scientists room?

Ans Mr. and Mrs. Hawl saw the scientist's room empty with the door wide open, but suddenly heard sneezes and saw furniture moving on its own. Shocked and frightened, they couldn't see anyone but sensed a strange presence. It was Griffin, invisible, causing chaos and confusion.

Q3 How did the visible man become invisible at the Hawl's? What did he do then?

Ans At Hall's, Griffin removed his clothes, becoming invisible. He did this to escape suspicion and avoid being caught. Once invisible, he attacked Mrs. Hall and created chaos in the inn, terrifying with moving furniture and strange noises.

IV Answer the following Long answers:-

Q1 Griffin is an evil character. wherever he goes he carries destruction with him. Comment.

Ans Griffin, the central character in 'Footprints without Feet', is portrayed as a brilliant but morally corrupt scientist. His discovery of invisibility could have been used for good, but he chooses to exploit it for selfish gains. His actions reflect a complete disregard for ethics and humanity.

Wherever Griffin goes, chaos follows. He sets fire to his landlord's house, steals clothes and food, and terrifies innocent people. At the inn, he attacks Mrs. Hall and creates havoc by moving furniture while invisible. His presence brings fear and destruction, not peace or progress.

Griffin's evil nature is evident in his choices. Instead of helping society, he uses science to harm others. His journey is marked by violence, theft, and terror, proving that intelligence without morality leads to ruin.