IV Answer the following Long Answer:-

Q 1 Mme Loisle's dispossions invites her doom. Elucinate this statement with reference to the chapter.

Ans Madame Loisel's downfall stems from her dissatisfaction and desire for luxury. Though born into a modest family and married to a clerk, she dreams of wealth, elegance, and high social status. Her constant yearning for a glamorous life blinds her to the value of her reality and fuels her discontents.

Her vanity leads her to borrow a necklace to appear rich at a ball. When she loses it, instead of confessing the truth, she chooses to replace it with an expensive one. This decision, drive by pride and fear of embarrassment, traps her and her husband in a decade of poverty and hardship.

Had Madame Loisel accepted her reality or been honest with her friend, she could have avoided ruin. Her obsession with appearances and materialism ultimately invites her doom.
